Contents of Volume 6

PSYCHOPHYSICS

Recency discrimination predicted from absolute lag judgments by R. S. Lockhart, 42

Similarity judgments of line length by R. P. Markley, D. Ayers, and S. J. Rule, 58

The effects of sequential presentation and spatial arrangements on the free classification of multidimensional stimuli by S. Handel and D. Preusser, 69

Stimulus discriminability in the magnitude estimation and category rating of loudness by I. D. John, 78

The effects of feedback in psychophysical tasks by D. W. Massaro, 89

Relative olfactory intensity perception as mediated by ratio-range category scale responses by R. A. M. Gregson, M. J. Mitchell, M. B. Simmonds, and J. E. Wells, 133

Structure in the classification of stimuli differing on several continuous attributes by H. Wing and W. Bevan, 137

On predicting exponents for cross-modality matches by S. S. Stevens, 251

The effects of duration, area, and background intensity on the visual intensity difference threshold given by the forced-choice procedure: Derivations from a statistical decision model for sensory discrimination by M. Treisman and B. Leshowitz, 281

Sensory scales of taste intensity by S. S. Stevens, 302

Cross-modality matching of brightness to loudness by 5-year-olds by B. Bond and S. S. Stevens, 337

Odor intensity: Differences in the exponent of the psychophysical function by W. S. Cain, 349

Sensation magnitude of vibrotactile stimuli by R. T. Verrillo, A. J. Fraioli, and R. L. Smith, 366

DETECTABILITY

Signal detection and localization by real observers by R. L. Hershman, J. R. Levine, and M. Lichtenstein, 53

Visual detection as a function of attentional demand and perceptual system error by S. M. Keeley, 73

Vibrotactile signal detection by J. A. Swets, J. Markowitz, and O. Franzén, 83

Frequency-selective detection at three signal amplitudes by G. Z. Greenberg, 297

VISION (GENERAL)

The effects of age and intelligence on the dark-interval threshold by R. H. Pollack, R. I. Ptashne, and D. J. Carter, 50

On the rate of stimulus occlusion during intermittent retinal stimulation by C. H. Baker and R. A. Monty, 61

Further studies of the McCollough effect by C. F. Stromeyer, 105

Color discrimination and luminance by M. H. Siegel, 163

Some further studies on the effect of grouping elements of a visual stimulus on the cortical evoked potential by J. Beatty, 373

VISUAL MASKING

Masking of alphabetic character recognition by dynamic visual noise (DVN) by W. R. Uttal, 121

The character in the hole experiment: Interaction of forward and backward masking of alphabetic character recognition by dynamic visual noise (DVN) by W. R. Uttal, 177

Visual masking and the recovery phenomenon by P. H. Schiller and A. Greenfield, 182

FORM PERCEPTION

Detection and identification of geometric forms using peripheral and central viewing by S. Handel and R. E. Christ, 47

Auditory discrimination learning: Prototype storage and distinctive features detection mechanisms by E. G. Aiken, 95

Satiation effects in the perception of single letters by J. R. Pomerantz, S. Kaplan, and R. Kaplan, 129

Visual size difference discrimination: Effect of disc size and retinal locus by M. L. Matthews, 160

The role of eye movements in the Müller-Lyer illusion by R. C. Bolles, 175

The influence of optical aberrations on the magnitude of the Poggendorff illusion by S. Coren, 185

Variation of the magnitude of the horizontal-vertical illusion with retinal eccentricity by D. Pearce and L. Matin, 241

Visual acuity in children as a function of hue by E. Skoff and R. H. Pollack, 244

Processing of tachistoscopic displays with controlled order of characters and spaces by P. Shaw, 257

Does retinal size have a unique correlate in perceived size? by A. A. Landauer and W. Epstein, 273

Discrimination and reproduction of patterns: Feature measures and constraint redundancy as predictors by C. M. Mavrides and D. R. Brown, 276

Eye-movement parameters and pattern discrimination by J. D. Gould and A. B. Dill, 311

Detection and scaling of statistical differences between visual textures by P. H. Stoloff, 333

RECOGNITION

Detection and criterion change associated with different test contexts in recognition memory by L. R. Allen and R. F. Garton, 1

Eye movements of prereaders to pseudowords containing letters of high and low confusability by C. F. Nodine and J. D. Evans, 39

Threshold exposure duration as a function of luminance for visual recognition by K. E. Baker, 147

Two operations in character recognition: A partial replication by G. W. Bracey, 357

SPACE PERCEPTION

Stereopsis with opposite contrast contours by L. Kaufman and C. B. Pitblado, 10

A parametric study of volume and surface judgments by R. J. Stanek, 16

The relationship between cognitive, motor-kinesthetic, and oculomotor adaptation by R. G. Webster, 33

Adaptation to vertical displacement of the visual direction by H. Wallach and J. H. Kravitz, 111

Perception of interpolated position and orientation by vision and active touch by S. J. Lederman and M. M. Taylor, 153

Kinetic disruption of optical texture: The perception of depth at an edge by G. A. Kaplan, 193

Continuously varying binocular disparity: An exploratory study by W. D. Groman and R. W. Worsham, 179

Sensory conflict in judgments of spatial direction by H. L. Pick, Jr., D. H. Warren, and J. C. Hay, 203

Orientation-specific mechanisms in the human visual system by S. M. Antelman, R. Olson, and J. Orbach, 206

Size and distance judgments under reduced conditions of viewing by W. Epstein and A. A. Landauer, 269

The interaction of postural systems in visual orientation by N. J. Wade, 309

Size-distance judgments with random letter stereograms by P. Tolin, 340

The determination of perceived tridimensional orientation by minimum criteria by F. Attneave and R. Frost, 391

The effect of practice on binocular rivalry control by L. C. Lack, 397
Relative distance of lights: An extension of Bugelski's findings by B. E. Dunn, 414

MOTION PERCEPTION

Perceived direction of rotary motion by G. Jansson and E. Börjesson, 19
Measurement of perceived oscillation by G. Jansson and S. Runeson, 27
Linear perspective as a cue in misperceived rotary motion by J. F. Cross, 145
Perceived movement of the afterimage during eye movements by A. Mack and J. Bachant, 379

HEARING

Temporal sequence effects in auditory oddity discrimination by D. G. Doehring, 65
On the validity of scalp recordings of the auditory evoked potential by J. P. Rosenfeld and A. P. Rudell, 102
Masking-level differences and the form of the psychometric function by J. P. Egan, W. A. Lindner, and D. McFadden, 207
Mechanisms of aural encoding: II. The role of distinctive features in articulation and rehearsal by R. A. Cole, B. D. Sales, and R. N. Haber, 343
Mechanisms of aural encoding: V. Environmental effects of consonants on vowel encoding by B. D. Sales, R. A. Cole, and R. N. Haber, 361
Mechanisms of aural encoding: IV. Hear-see, say-write interactions for vowels by B. D. Sales, R. N. Haber, and R. A. Cole, 385
Monitoring simultaneous auditory messages by L. H. Shaffer and J. Hardwick, 401
Frequency discrimination near masked threshold by W. H. Jesteadt and R. C. Bilger, 405

CHEMICAL AND CUTANEOUS SENSES

The role of skin coupling in the determination of vibrotactile spatial summation by J. C. Craig and C. E. Sherrick, 97
Facilitatory spatial interaction with percutaneous electrical stimuli by C. Gold and B. S. Rosner, 118
Effect of blank samples on absolute odor threshold determinations by G. Steinmetz, G. T. Pryor, and H. Stone, 142
Theory for the mechanism of action of "miracle fruit" by E. Dzendolet, 187
Temperature sensitivity: One subjective continuum or two? by W. P. Banks, 189
The dimensionality of judgments of heaviness by R. J. Donovan and J. Ross, 247
A note on the relation between area and intensity in taste by D. H. McBurney, 250

INFORMATION PROCESSING

The information conveyed by varying the dimensions of features in human outline faces by J. L. Bradshaw, 5
Visual summation and its relation to processing and memory by R. H. Jackson and A. O. Dick, 13
On relations among perceptual and cognitive measures of information processing by P. Suedfeld, S. S. Tomkins, and W. H. Tucker, 45
A note on the parallel processing of single-featured forms by S. M. Keeley and M. E. Doherty, 81
Grammatical structure and recall: A function of the space in immediate memory or of recall delay? by S. Glucksberg and J. H. Danks, 113
Processing time as influenced by the number of elements in a visual display by R. C. Atkinson, J. E. Holmgren, and J. F. Juola, 321
What is so difficult about negation? by R. J. Wales and R. Grieve, 327

PERFORMANCE

Figural preference and the visual field by H. R. Schiffman, 92
Interference in identifying attributes and attribute names by B. W. White, 166
Reaction times and error rates for "same"-"different" judgments of multidimensional stimuli by D. Bamber, 169
The effect of redundant stimulus elements on visual discrimination as a function of element heterogeneity, equal discriminability, and position uncertainty by W. R. Garner and J. H. Flowers, 216
Speed of discrimination with redundant stimulus attributes by W. R. Garner, 221
Pictorial and verbal encoding in a short-term memory task by B. Tversky, 225
Effects of observation cost on sequential search behavior by A. Rapoport, 234
Distinctive features and response latency: A pilot study by J. R. McInish and R. S. Tikofsky, 267
Verbal interference in a perceptual comparison task by H. E. Egeth, D. L. Blecker, and A. S. Kamlet, 355
Free sorting with stimuli clustered in a multidimensional attribute space by C. T. Bersted, B. R. Brown, and S. H. Evans, 409
